

Join the Digital Learning TechTeens!

Work with other teens to communicate science to the public using digital technology

2014-15 Digital Learning Teams:

Science News Team

- » Research and communicate hot topics in science
- » Use social media to foster public debate on important science issues
- » Work with KQED and other technology and science professionals
- » Contribute to the Academy's social media presence

Science Viz Team

- » Create videos, shows, and other digital assets about science at the Academy
- » Share your work with a global audience
- » Work alongside the Academy's visualization team and scientists

Commitment: September 29 - May 9, one session per week (plus additional days as needed)

Time: 4-6:30 pm (after-school)

Where: California Academy of Sciences

Age: 9th-12th graders

Cost: FREE!

Apply here: www.calacademy.org/youthprograms

Applications due: Sunday, September 7 by midnight

For more information: digitallearning@calacademy.org

Volunteer credit available.

